I concur- happy to sign out and a week delay is fine.

My tuppence.

Jo it's your stuff so your call on sign out. My "value add" is maybe tone for how this lands, which I've already conveyed. I'd like to read but don't need to sign out.

On timing, I don't think a week matters too much.

Kia ora kōrua,

We have been progressing the Gigablue advice for Minister Watts and Minister Grigg, and have a couple of questions for you to weigh in on.

1. Sign-out. As per the email chain below Stephen is happy for an RM Operations/PIE sign-out for this. However, with a strong climate angle, this could just as easily be signed out from the climate side (noting manager review from across marine policy and land-use and removal will occur). Are you able to please discuss and determine who will have final sign-out for this briefing?
2. The briefing is currently pegged to go across the road on 3 June. We have had some delay in getting MFAT input and some sickness across the teams. We'd be keen to push this out a week if possible. Do you think the respective Minister's offices will have any issue with this? This time (noting public holiday this Monday) will give agencies (MFAT, EPA, DOC, and MPI) a week with the briefing to consider.

Thanks for your help,
Cheers,

Matt
