Apologies for the lateness of this email – for action tomorrow is fine (though if you're like me you like to read things hot off the press, so I'm sending tonight!).

The FTR team has drafted advice regarding each of our projects Advice to Deputy Secretary PID on FTR activities in context of changing administration.docx, and corresponding talking points to support calls. We're still working on confirming some mobile numbers but we'll update them as we find them.

In a nutshell our advice is:

Taranaki FTR scoping	Stop and terminate immediately.
Tasman/Nelson FTR scoping	Stop and terminate project (once draft report is delivered).
Tairāwhiti Readiness for resilience focused spatial planning	Pause (including engagement) until there is certainty on the "fit" of this project with new administration priorities.
Hawkes Bay Readiness for resilience focused spatial planning	Pause (including engagement) until there is certainty on the "fit" of this project with new administration priorities.
Greater Wellington Technical assessment of spatial plan	Pause (including engagement) until there is certainty on the "fit" of this project with new administration priorities.

If you would like to talk through, text me any time and I'll call you. I've also blocked out significant time for calls tomorrow.

Ngā manaakitanga

Ministry staff work flexibly by default. I often email outside core hours – but I don't expect a reply outside core hours.
