Hi – thanks for the constructive catchup today.

We were debriefing and thought a further meeting would be useful to cover off some things that needed more discussion. Apologies for the short notice – but would a follow up next Wednesday be possible? That will help with some pending deadlines we have…90 mins should do it. I know it is the school holidays and might be hard to get everyone there.

Happy to clear diaries at our end to make this happen.

PS Hamish this is what I called you about just now – feel free to get in touch if we can't make Wed work

Cheers
