Hi Zen,

Further to my previous email, please find attached the activity status assessment as amended to accommodate the addition of development on Lots 200 and 300. I have made the additions in red for clarity.

There is not a lot that changes. There are some yard infringements that are described, and the buildings attract the same (discretionary) activity status as the uses that they will accommodate. Overall earthworks rises by 1.7ha (regional land disturbance rules) to accommodate the shallow scrape that is required for the buildings and yard development. Everything else remains the same, as does the overall activity status of non-complying.

With regard to the matter that you have mentioned relating to the reliance on the WBP resource consent being granted by the Expert Consenting Panel, I note that we are well through that process and the Panel has completed a site visit and has not raised any issues to date. The Panel has confirmed that there is an intention to complete the consenting within the statutory 25 working day period. We do not consider this to be an issue for the reasons previously expressed – proposals will almost always require some other approvals (such as from infrastructure providers). However, if you retain any concerns about this matter, perhaps there is potential to require a copy of the resource consent for the WBP as one of the information requirements to be set out in the Minister's referral? That would ensure that the WBP extension could not proceed to the consenting stage unless the WBP consent has first been granted, as we fully expect it will. Happy to discuss that if required.

I hope that addresses the additional queries that you had. Please let me know if there is any further assistance that we can provide at this stage.

Ngā mihi

Hi Fraser,

Thanks for agreeing to assist within the urgent timeframe, and hopefully it is not too taxing on you as you recover from Covid.

As explained in my phone call, Neil Construction has made a last minute decision to commit to establishing industrial buildings on Lot 200 and 300 in order to generate some direct jobs from these two lots. The Ministry had indicated some reservations with this part of the Whenuapai Business Park extension as there were previously no direct jobs generated (only the civil works on 73 Trig Road generates direct jobs).

Attached are the drawings for development proposed on Lots 200 and 300, and the jobs and economic benefits spreadsheet that Trevor prepared yesterday in order to meet our very tight timeframes. The spreadsheet was prepared using the methodology that you had used for Teal Park, where the number of jobs created is proportional to the value of the construction. Trevor included the Teal Park numbers for comparison purposes, and simply extrapolated the numbers on a proportional basis to arrive at the job numbers for Lots 200 and 300.

Subsequent to sending that information to the Ministry for the Environment yesterday, the Ministry analyst has requested some confirmation from you so they can be confident that the job numbers are realistic and accurate. Their information request is:

- “Confirmation of the appropriateness of assessment/calculations on FTE jobs.”

Could you please review the spreadsheet and provide some brief comment by reply email to confirm (or otherwise) that the numbers have been appropriately calculated in a way that is consistent with your methodology and professional opinion, and can be relied upon as being realistic and accurate.

Many thanks again for agreeing to turn this around so promptly.

Cheers

Kia ora Jess,

Thank you for your discussions with Michelle earlier. As Michelle has indicated, the applicant has decided to amend the proposal by committing to build industrial buildings on Lots 200 and 300 in order to capture the benefits of providing additional direct FTE employment. Attached are plans illustrating the nature and form of development proposed on Lots 200 and 300, together with a spreadsheet setting out the economic benefits that are envisaged, including the additional direct jobs.

As you will see from the economic effects spreadsheet, the proposed building development on Lots 200 and 300 provides an additional 75 direct FTE jobs, over a period of 18 months. These direct jobs are additional to the numbers already provided in the application, relating to civil works on 73 Trig Road. The calculations in the attachment are based on the same methodology that was utilised in relation to Teal Park, as advised by the applicant's economic consultant. While of less interest in determining public benefits, we note that the proposal would also provide 205 indirect jobs and substantial economic activity measured in monetary terms.

The drawings show the proposed development of industrial buildings on each of the two lots. Lot 200 is able to accommodate a 4,600m² building with canopies of an additional 1,000m², together with ancillary office, car parking, truck manoeuvring and yard. All development is set back at least 10m from wetland and riparian areas, and extensive landscaping is proposed. Lot 300 has a smaller area of developable land, but is still able to accommodate a 1,950m² warehouse building with ancillary office, canopies, yard and carpark. Again, development is appropriately setback from the stream.

By way of commentary, we note that the purpose of the Act is to "urgently promote employment to support New Zealand's recovery from the economic and social impacts of COVID-19 and to support the ongoing investment across New Zealand".

In considering (for the purpose of section 18(2)) whether the project would help to achieve the purpose of the Act, we note that the Minister may have regard to the specific matters referred to below, and any other matter that the Minister considers relevant:

- Project's economic benefits and costs for people or industries affected by COVID-19

- Project's effects on the social and cultural wellbeing of current and future generations
- Whether the project would be likely to progress faster by using the processes provided by the Act than would otherwise be the case

Public Benefit

- Whether the project may result in a 'public benefit.' Examples of a public benefit as included in Section 19(d) of the Act are included below as prompts only.
 - Generating employment
 - Housing supply
 - Contributing to well-functioning urban environments
 - Providing infrastructure to improve economic, employment, and environmental outcomes, and increase productivity
 - Improving environmental outcomes for coastal or freshwater quality, air quality, or indigenous biodiversity
 - Minimising waste
 - Contributing to NZ's efforts to mitigate climate change and transition more quickly to a low emissions economy (in terms of reducing NZ's net emissions of greenhouse gases)
 - Promoting the protection of historic heritage
 - Strengthening environmental, economic, and social resilience, in terms of managing the risks from natural hazards and the effects of climate change
 - Other public benefit
 - Whether there is potential for the project to have significant adverse environmental effects

There is no explicit hierarchy in the various matters identified as a potential public benefit, although we understand that there has been an emphasis on the creation of direct employment. The amendments to the proposal now provide a response that squarely addresses the employment benefits through the creation of a significant number of additional direct jobs.

Beyond that, we consider that the Whenuapai Business Park extension has a key role in contributing to a well-functioning urban environment (another of the public benefits noted above). Lots 200 and 300 are located at the main entrance to Whenuapai Business Park and provide a gateway into the broader development and an opportunity to showcase and restore the stream. Similarly, the site at 73 Trig Road enables a connected street network and avoids an interim development outcome where the road is essentially a cul-de-sac.

All the land within the Whenuapai Business Park extension will be used for industrial activities and will therefore make a significant contribution to the availability of business land in this sought-after location. This will address a strong and growing body of market evidence that conclusively reveals a distinct lack of available business land supply. The additional employment uses in an area of significant projected population growth will enable more people to choose to work closer to their home, thereby reducing the need for long distance commuting, with resultant economic, environmental, and social benefits.

Significantly, the project would progress considerably faster by using the processes provided by the Act than would otherwise be the case and the timeframe would also be more certain. It is considered that the changes proposed will result in the same effects as contemplated in the Assessment of Environment Effects for the proposal.

I trust that this additional information is of assistance to you and Zen.

Ngā mihi

Mōrena,

You will both see a few missed calls from me. By way of update, our client, Neil Construction, has decided to include the development of two industrial buildings on lots 200 and 300 which results in an increase to the creation of direct jobs. I have prepared the draft response. Employment figures and plans are being updated today. I am expecting to receive these at 4pm. I will send the full response to you by the end of the day and I hope that assists with your timing. Philip and I are available to answer any questions you have at any time.

Hi Michelle

Thanks for your time on the phone just now. As discussed, and as per our previous RFI, our understanding is that direct jobs to be created (rather than enabled) will only relate to the development at 73 Trig Road as only land use consents are being sought and no physical works will be implemented as part of this project on Lots 200 and 300. Please confirm.

If this is the case, the question for us is does that component of the project meet the urgently promoting employment purpose of the FTCA or should it be removed from the referral application?
